RVGS NEEDS YOU!

Do you use the Genealogy Library? If so, consider volunteering as a librarian ... the need is serious and our wonderful evening and Saturday hours may be in jeopardy. (You know more than you think you do about the library...and training is provided.)

Do you have ideas for classes, programs, interest groups? Consider joining the Education Committee, offering to teach a class or facilitating an interest group.

BECOME INVOLVED: VOLUNTEER!

INTERESTED IN MAKING THINGS HAPPEN? Want to be a part of making the Genealogy Society hum? The Education Committee is currently starting up for next year, and now is a great time to join in. The committee is now actively planning the April seminar and vetting ideas for making Genealogy Week even better in 2018. Tell Denise Salthouse (805-448-1776) of your interest, and you can be on the team for the next Education Meeting. You can sign on for the whole year, or let Denise know if you are only interested in one aspect of the year's activities: planning classes, working with the OLLI program, helping out with the April seminar or the Summer Program, etc. We will get you hooked up with the right people!

GENEALOGY WEEK REPORT

Genealogy Week at JCGI in September was a great success. RVGS held 14 classes on topics that ranged from DNA to immigration and included a special visit from Patty Ware of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The three Starter Classes on Saturday proved quite popular, with a head count of 22 for the first class of the week, "How To Start Your Genealogy Project." Four classes had more than 20 students each. There were requests for another class on Ancestry.com in the future. We'll see what we can do!

The surprise breakout class was Rick Black's "Computer Tips." His many students had to double up at the computers! Rick graciously agreed to offer two repeat classes in January and February, with one being a Starter Class and the other a bit more advanced.

A great big THANK YOU to all our wonderful teachers and committee members who helped bring Genealogy Week to life.

RESEARCH TRIP TO FAMILY HISTORY LIBRARY

March 11 to March 18, 2018 join your friends and fellow genealogists for our annual trip to the Family History Library in Salt Lake City (SLC). Research your family on the Five Floors of Treasures at the library with the help of the well-informed staff. Spend the day and evening researching, if you can bear to skip the City sights. The library is open for a total of 69 hours while we are there. We will be staying at the Plaza Hotel, within easy walking distance to the library. If we have 15 people going, then we could even qualify for a discounted direct flight. Don't forget to join us for our no host dinner at one of SLC's wonderful restaurants. Enjoy great food and fine friends.

Members who went on previous RVGS research trips had this to say: "My first trip to the LDS genealogy library in Salt Lake this past May was one of the best experiences I have had. The amount of research material available, the classes, and the helpful people at the library made it a fantastic trip. I found my husband's grandfather's birth and his parents' marriage in Finnish. That was a real score! They have people from all over the world that can help with specific nationality researches."

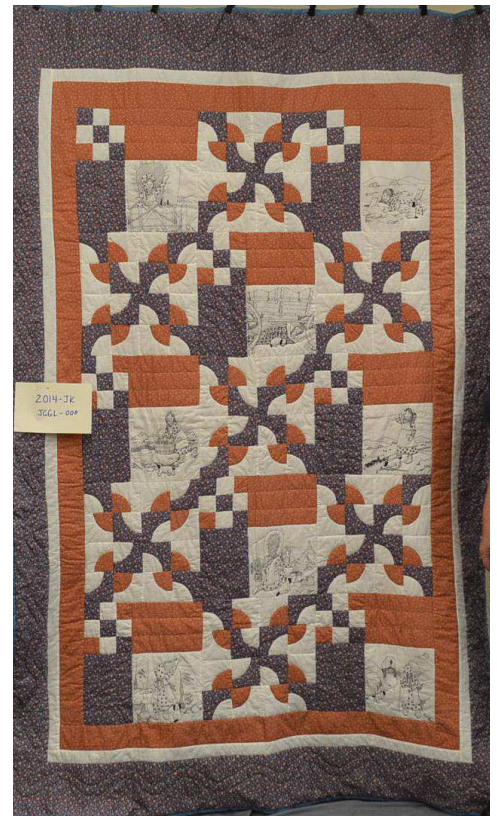

"I was at the library early and stayed late each day...it paid off. I found 2x-great grandfather's 1828 German marriage record to his first wife...a surprise, she is not my 2x-great-grandmother...and several Illinois-Missouri documents in the microfilm collection...I will be interested to see if the library changed its hands-on microfilm accessibility since so much is now digitized."

We have several new researchers going and old hands ready to make the trip fun and productive. Contact Ann Baracker at 541-261-4874 or email reception.jcgl@gmail.com for details and registration form. Let us know as soon as possible if you have an interest in joining us in SLC. We will be setting up a group email to send out specific trip details. No strings attached.

FAMILY QUILT SHARING

Do you have a quilt and a story to tell? Here is an opportunity for you to share the story of a quilt you inherited or made and to briefly describe the research into the quiltmaker or the design and the memories associated with it. Family Quilt Sharing is scheduled for Tuesday, January 23, 2018, 1:30-2:30 pm and is part of our Quilts and Genealogy Talks series. This is our third annual sharing.

The deadline to propose your quilt and story is November 28; there is a sign-up sheet in the library or call Karen Asche at 541-734-3147. Due to time constraints, six quilts and stories will be chosen from the proposals. Each participant will be allowed up to 10 minutes to present. All six quilts will be displayed. The selected presenters will be notified by December 1.

2017-2018 RAFFLE QUILT TICKETS FOR SALE

The raffle quilt is now on display in the Reading Room. →

This “Centennial Rose” quilt is a classic. It is machine pieced but hand appliquéd and hand quilted by Mary Cadwallader of Clackamas, Oregon in 2006. Raffle tickets are $1.00 each, or 6 for $5.00 or 30 for $20.00. Raffle winner will be drawn on June 26, 2018.

“ANCESTORS FROM AROUND THE GLOBE”

THE RVGS VOLUNTEER HOLIDAY LUNCHEON

What is more important than thanking the dedicated volunteers who serve our library six days a week as librarians, instructors, committee chairs, technology support, board members, indexers, and behind-the-scene workers? The answer is not much. This group is the foundation of a well-organized operating non-profit society. There is no way to completely say Thank You. Volunteers have been functioning for the benefit of the society and sponsorship of a library for over 50 years. Some volunteers are our honored members, our life and benefactor members, and our financial supporters. We have over 54 members who are out of the Southern Oregon region or not residents of Oregon, but see the benefits offered. They might not be active volunteers and attend our thank you luncheon, but we will remember them! We will remember those whom we have lost.

We all had at one time an immigrant ancestor. At the library use a “map pin” and insert in one of your ancestors’ countries on the world map in the Reading Room. Use the USA if you are still moving backwards in your research.

Our luncheon, December General Meeting and 2018 Officers Installation will be held December 16th at 12:00 noon. The luncheon is sponsored by the RVGS Board of Directors and donations. Please let us honor you... who are our 2017 team. Volunteers will receive the invitation by email. We hope to see you all there. It has been a great year.

Andrea Patterson, Past President & Luncheon Coordinator

SPOTLIGHT ON HISTORIC CEMETERY PRESERVATION

Several years ago volunteers of the Jackson County Genealogy Library (JCGL) became aware that records of many unknown or forgotten burial grounds throughout the county were not represented in the library's massive cemetery records collection. Currently approximately 96,000 names and 40-some cemeteries are listed in the website database. Another 30-40 burial sites have been reported and many located. Efforts are now underway to add these records to the collection. Persons with information about burial sites are encouraged to contact the volunteer team currently consisting of Roger Roberts, Ron Brown, and Chuck Eccleston. Tips on possible burial sites can be sent to the team by calling 541-776-0778 or via email to cgecc@juno.com. A series of articles describing newly discovered cemeteries and burial sites throughout the county will be included in future eNews issues.

MT. VERNON PIONEER CEMETERY

In 2011 the JCGL Cemetery Committee received a letter signed by local residents expressing concern regarding the condition of an old neighborhood cemetery northwest of Ashland. A search of a fenced area near the residents' homes disclosed the remains of several broken and three standing headstones. Subsequent records research determined this historic cemetery was established by descendants of the Nathaniel and Mary Myer family. The family including sons, Benjamin Franklin Myer and William Curtis Myer, and daughter, Mary Ann Myer, arrived in the Ashland area with the 1853 Preacher Wagon Train. The father and sons took adjacent Donation Land Claims totaling 960 acres which later became known as Mount Vernon. Their cabins were located near the present intersection of North and East Valley View Roads.

The first burial in this one-third acre cemetery was Margaret Barrett who died on December 24, 1853. She and her husband John had taken a nearby land claim as had several other pioneers such as the Anderson, Bunyard, Newhouse, Rev. Brown, Rockfellow, Taylor, and Woolen families. The burial of a Mrs. Hendrix was described by Wellborn Beeson in his 1861 diary. Research by various historians and diarists over the years has identified the names of many early pioneers buried in this cemetery including references to a number of soldier graves.

In later years concerns that the cemetery had become an attractive nuisance apparently led to the gradual disappearance of the features identifying the site as a cemetery. Headstones on the easterly portion of the cemetery became "mysteriously missing" and broken segments in the westerly portion were partially buried.

Following several years of tree trimming, poison oak removal, and mowing by local neighbors, historians and genealogy volunteers, the cemetery was again searched for evidence of unmarked graves. Initially, ground penetrating radar technology was used in an attempt to detect burials, but with little success. This was followed by the use of metal dowsing rods. The dowsing rod method provided convincing evidence of the location of 116 previously unknown graves including the row of military graves referred to in a newspaper article and personal knowledge of an adjacent neighbor.

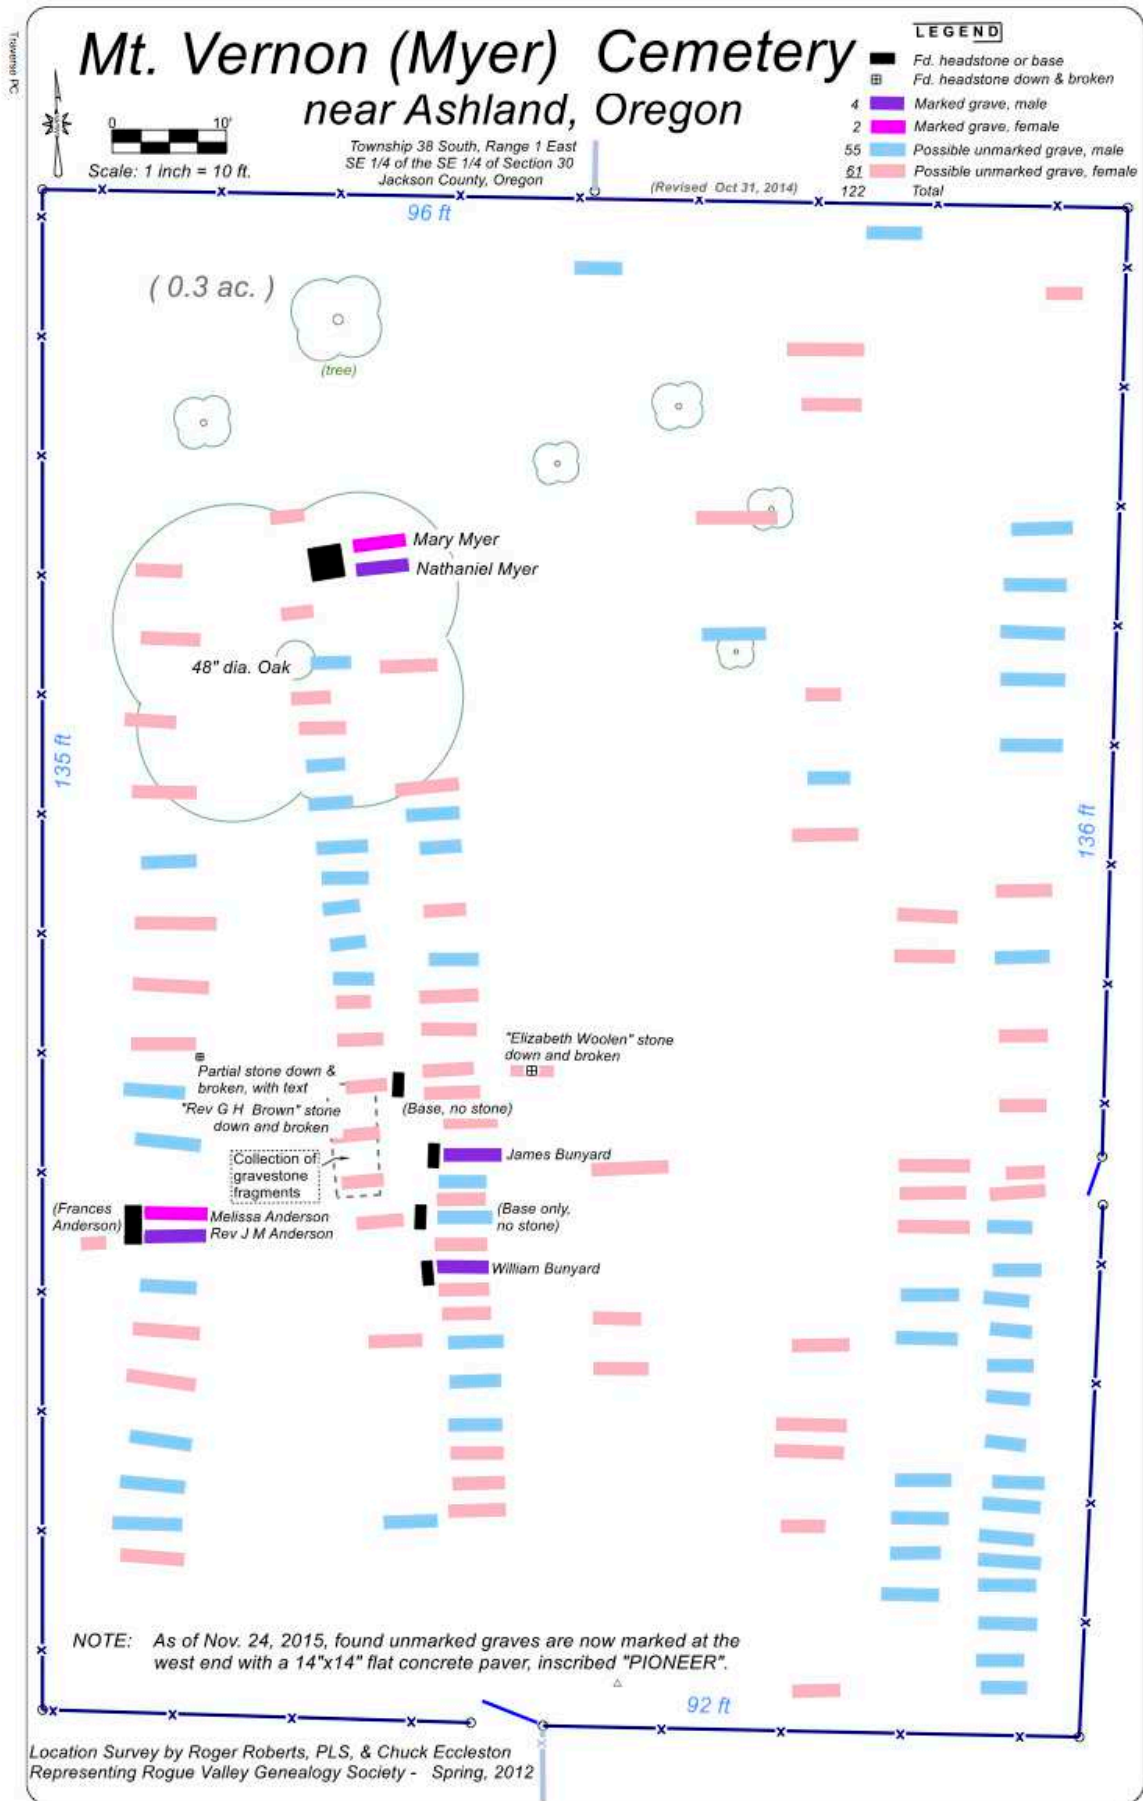

With the site then cleared and cleaned, donations from area residents and volunteers were used to purchase and install concrete PIONEER plaques on each unmarked grave.

Local residents now continue to maintain the cemetery and plan for improvements in signage and fence upgrades.

The names of known pioneers buried in this historic cemetery are recorded in the JCGL database for researchers and historians. The final map of existing marked graves and identified unmarked graves is on file at JCGL.
